Education

Little Town College Fictional BA Event Planning and Visual Communication 20XX - 20XX

Skills

Event Planning: Organize themes, visitor routes and on-site roles; write clear participation guides.
Content Editing: Prepare notices, event recaps and handbook entries with consistent wording and hierarchy.
Visual Communication: Draw simple maps and posters; create visitor cards, table signs and supply labels.

Experience

Chiikawa Community Club (Fictional)

Event Planning Intern | 20XX.XX - 20XX.XX | Neighborhood Events

Sample work →

Organization: A fictional club that hosts seasonal markets and neighborhood gatherings.
Sample role: Gather stall requirements, plan visitor routes and prepare signs and participation guides.

- Ramen Festival Route: Arrange entry, voucher collection, dining and rest areas in a visitor-friendly sequence. Create a hand-drawn guide with landmark descriptions and directions for first-time guests.
- Event Materials: Group table signs, menus and stamp cards by use, with setup and collection checklists. Prepare an indoor alternative for wet weather and combine the materials into an illustrative planning handbook.

Hachiware Studio (Fictional)

Editorial Intern | 20XX.XX - 20XX.XX | Neighborhood Publications

Sample work →

Meadow Concert | Event Special
Project: An editorial special featuring a fictional outdoor concert, its program and a venue guide.
Sample role: Plan sections, draft interview prompts, edit program notes and review the print layout.

- Sections and Interviews: Organize performance stories, instrument introductions and audience notes. Use short interview prompts to develop fictional source material into a consistent set of sample articles.
- Layout and Proofreading: Standardize location names, program order and punctuation; check captions and page numbers. Present the program and venue map separately to make information easy to find.

Town Walks | Seasonal Route Guide
Project: A hand-drawn booklet introducing imaginary gardens, bakeries and quiet resting spots.
Sample role: Plan routes, create location cards and prepare walking suggestions for different weather.

- Route Planning: Arrange stops around slow walks, family outings and rainy-day visits. Use landmarks and simple directions, with a consistent opening note for each route.
- Location Cards: Summarize highlights, rest suggestions and useful items on small cards. Add symbols for covered areas and drinking water to complete a set of fictional guide pages.

Usagi Supply Stop (Fictional)

Supplies Assistant | 20XX.XX - 20XX.XX | Festival Preparation

Sample role: Create category labels for lanterns, picnic cloths and decorations; prepare a lending register and post-event care notes.

Open Source

Town Atlas | Open Resource Handbook | 2.3k Stars example.com/town/atlas

Project: A fictional open-content repository of neighborhood symbols, hand-drawn objects and event signs.

- Resource Index: Group entries by location, festival and everyday objects, with usage notes and search terms for each illustration. Sample status: contribution accepted.
- Symbol Guide: Add written explanations and examples for navigation markers, and organize submission guidelines. Sample status: PR submitted, not yet merged.

Projects

Ramen Flavor Map | Illustrated Pocket Guide example.com/town/ramen-map

Project: A portable, hand-drawn guide to imaginary ramen shops in a fictional town.

- Information Design: Arrange broth, toppings and suggested combinations into consistent cards. Describe flavors in short captions and write a distinct story for each imaginary shop.
- Foldout Layout: Place content in route order and leave space beside the map for handwritten notes. The project notes demonstrate an inline link.

Publications

Color Palettes in Small-Town Festival Graphics (Fictional Paper)
Coursework sample | No actual publication
Use imaginary lantern-festival posters to explore color combinations and information hierarchy, documenting the design process and reading observations. This entry demonstrates the publications layout only.
